Rain, Winds, Hail Hit Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rain, hail and high winds swept through north central Arkansas Thursday, trailing a threat of tornadoes.

Heavy rains and hail pelted Paragould and Russellville, and high winds disrupted electrical service in both cities.

Radar at the U. S. Weather Bureau in Little Rock indicated a tornado in the skies over Conway County, and tornado alerts were out from 5:30 p.m. until 6:30 p.m. in Conway, White, Cleburne and Faulkner counties. No tornadoes touched down.

The Weather Bureau said the twister sighted over Conway County was traveling east at 20 miles per hour, accompanied by large hail and damaging winds.

At Paragould, trees were uprooted, shingles were blown from houses and a city street was blocked briefly by a fallen tree. Another tree fell on top of a house.

Three and a half inches of rain between 7:30 p.m. and 9 p.m. flooded downtown Russellville streets and some stores. Wind gusts up to 35 miles per hour were recorded.

No weather-related injuries were reported.

Rape Victim Is Refused Treatment

By GEORGE F. BARTSCH
Associated Press Writer

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The child's legs were bleeding. The man had dragged her over a barbed wire fence before he raped her. Still, a physician at the hospital here refused to treat her. Even for the cuts.

He "didn't want to get involved," two deputy prosecuting attorneys recounted Thursday.

Deputies David Hale and Clay Robinson said the 12-year-old Negro girl was raped about midnight Saturday in a wooded area of the Marche community, about six miles northwest of here. She and her two brothers, one 11 and one 13, were babysitting with the three small children of Jessie Denham, who is white.

A white man came into the house, took a shotgun from the wall and held it on the other children while he dragged his victim from the house, they said. Then, in a wooded area behind the house, he raped her.

The girl's uncle heard noises in the woods. He fired a shotgun into the air to frighten any prowlers in the area. The assailant fled.

When the girl reported the in-

Vote Machines for El Dorado

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) - An apparent low bid of $120,383 submitted by the Shoup Voting Machine Co., for 60 voting machines was accepted here Thursday by Union County Judge Carlton Jerry and the Union County Election Commission.

Purchase of the machines, will be paid for over a 10-year period, was approved in the 1966 General Election.

Jerry said 15 or 20 of the machines would be used in the September School Election here.

Violence Again Hits Buffalo

By LYNN C. NEWLAND

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) - Twelve persons were wounded with shotgun pellets, 18 others injured and more than 100 arrested as roaming Negro youths rioted in this city's shabby East Side for a third successive night.

Four hundred helmeted police, armed with shotguns and tear gas moved in quickly to disperse crowds. Again and again, clusters collected and were broken up. Each time a police van carted defiant Negroes to headquarters for bookings on mostly minor charges.

Newsman described Thursday night's disorders as sporadic, despite the violence; more subdued than Wednesday when large gangs rampaged through the predominantly Negro area, looting, smashing and burning.

The subtle difference was in the attitude of the police, newsman said. "They were on the offensive," a veteran reporter added.

The neighboring city of Niagara Falls also was affected for a second successive night. At least four persons were arrested and a policeman was struck by a thrown rock.

Police moved quickly into the troubled area, however, and quelled the disturbance by 3 a.m. today.

Bands of Negroes in their late teens and early 20s caused the disorder in Buffalo Thursday night. On Tuesday and Wednesday nights, many of those who took to the streets were children, not yet 13.

Police estimated that about 1,000 Negroes—some carrying rocks and others armed with knives—roamed the streets of the mile-square area with the heaviest concentration in the Jefferson-Ferry-Madison avenues section.

In three nights of rioting, the fire department estimated that about 150 fires had been set deliberately, many of them with home-made gasoline bombs. At least 20 fires, most of them minor, were touched off Thursday night.

Firemen said two gasoline bombs had been used to destroy a two-story frame house occupied by Alice McClure and her five children.

Hammerschmidt for Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) - Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., said Wednesday he is in favor of "at least a minimum thin line system of antiballistic missiles."

Hammerschmidt made the remarks in a weekly newsletter to his constituents. He said the United States must protect its "counter-strike capability."

Acquitted of Charge of Prostitution

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - A circuit court jury of seven men and five women acquitted a Little Rock woman of a prostitution charge here Thursday, despite testimony from a State Police officer who said he had paid her $20 to have sexual relations with him under an arrangement with the Pulaski County Sheriff's office.

The jury, which had deliberated 8-4 after 2½ hours of deliberation Wednesday, returned its verdict after deliberating another 50 minutes Thursday.

The woman, Judy Jeanette Duckworth, 19, of Little Rock, was convicted on the charge in Municipal Court June 8 after testimony from Sgt. Chesley C. Clayton, 51, of Little Rock, who works in the state Fire Marshal's office.

Clayton, a bachelor, said he had paid Miss Duckworth to have intercourse with him May 25 at a Little Rock health studio. H said he had cleared the assignment with his superior, Maj. W. C. Struebing, head of the State Police Department's Criminal Investigation Division, but that neither Struebing nor Pulaski County Sheriff Frank Mackey had instructed him to actually have relations with the woman. He said Mackey reimbursed him for the $20.

Mackey said after the Municipal Court trial that he thought the exchange of money would have constituted sufficient evidence.

Miss Duckworth, described by her attorney as five months pregnant, denied at both trials that she had accepted money from Clayton or that she had engaged in sexual relations with him.

The circuit court jury upheld a second June 8 Municipal Court conviction for practicing massage without a certificate of registration after Clayton testi-

Board Gets Money From Rockefeller

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The state Cosmetology Board, stripped of its appropriation by an attorney general's ruling and legislative red tape was given new life Thursday when Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller gave the board $46,500 from his emergency fund.

The funds will finance the board's operation from July 1 through January 31. A special session of the legislature is expected by then. The legislature can reimburse the governor's emergency fund.

The 1967 appropriation act funding the board was declared invalid recently by the attorney general's office. The bill included a stipulation that a present board members be confirmed by the Senate before any money could be spent.

None of the board members had been confirmed, and the stipulation had left the board without funds. The attorney general's office ruled the act invalid because the House and Senate had passed different versions of the measure.

Rockefeller cited the appropriation act as "a capricious move" by a few members of the Senate. He charged the legislature with trying to bankrupt his administration.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

THE IN-BETWEENERS CLUB

Dear Helen: There are the young singles clubs and apartments, and the golden-age organizations and even towns. But how about the forgotten 40's and 50's? More and more of us are turning up single. We're too old for the Friday-bars and too young for Senior Citizens. Can't someone form a group for us?—LONELY

Dear Lonely: Why wait for someone else to do it? Here's how two St. Paul, Minn., women filled a need:

Dear Helen: After 25 years of marriage, I found myself alone and lonely. I wasn't comfortable with married couples, and felt the need for other single companionship. I joined a few "singles" groups, but discovered they were comprised mainly of women.

Talking this over with a vivacious woman friend we decided something should be done. And we did it! We formed the "Swinging Singles," a party group for unattached adults between the ages of 25 and 55. It is open to the public and we meet every Friday night at a famous St. Paul Hotel. For a small admission fee, one can dance, sing, visit, drink, whatever. . . No need to feel strange as everyone there is alone. The word was spread through newspaper write-ups.

Our first party's attendance was pretty much in favor of women, but the last one proved pretty close to even and everyone had a marvelous time.

We also have a club membership which entitles people to special privileges, but we're new at this and learning as we go. One thing we'll vouch for—it certainly gets a big response!—MARY AND CONNIE OF THE SWINGING SINGLES

YOUR HELPING HANDS DEPARTMENT

Dear Helen: I know a lovely old man, who will celebrate his 98th birthday soon. I have known "Papa Vic" since I was a young girl and have never known him to be without a smile or a cheery word. He is now very lonely, and it would be a real thrill for him to receive cards and letters from HHU readers.

He is: Victor Sands, 6 Brook Land, Yardley, Pennsylvania.

Flash-bulbs Tell Story of Miss Mansfield

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — She had virtually stowed away on the plane that was junketing stars and press to the premiere of a Howard Hughes movie in Silver Springs, Fla.

The movie "Underwater," was highly forgettable; she was not. Before the crystalline waters of the Florida resort she stripped to a red bikini, and the flashbulbs began exploding.

That was the story of Jayne Mansfield's career—one pose after another, always to the accompaniment of flash-bulbs.

She was a creature of publicity, and she was seen mostly in newspapers and magazines. The locales of the photographs varied — in the bathtub, at a movie premiere, in a divorce court. Always the pose was the same: eyes wide, lips moist and open, chest forward.

Her second husband, musician Mickey Hargitay, talked to reporters Thursday before leaving for New Orleans, where Jayne had been killed in an auto crash.

"Nobody really understood her," said the saddened Hargitay. "Nobody knew the real Jayne."

If there was a real Jayne Mansfield, she remained hidden from view as the more exploitable features of her makeup underwent repeated exposure — often quite literally.

The tone was set on the "Underwater" junket. While the star of the film, Jane Russell, posed sedately with Debbie Reynolds and other glamor girls, Jayne gave her all. She

Thank you.—A FRIEND

Dear Helen: My wife never shows affection. She says it's the man's place to show his love, so she never comes to me with a kiss.

When I try to get affectionate, she says I should grow up and stop being a kid, as a man of 49 should be too old for this sort of thing. What can a man do with a woman like this?—FREEZE-OUT

Dear F-O: You might try double solitaire. Anything else would scarcely be worth the effort.—H.

P.S. Your last faint hope is a marriage counselor. Make an appointment today.—H.

Dear Helen: My husband bought me a clothes washer five years ago, and it has never had a drop of water in it. You see, it's an automatic, and he's afraid using all that water might make the well run dry. There it sits, brand new, while I scrub by hand. The well have never run dry yet, but he worries. What should I do?—WASHY WISHY

Dear W.W.: It's time you tested the well, and your husband. Plug in the washer and hope HE doesn't blow a fuse.—H.

P.S. Automatic washers won't run ordinary wells dry unless you convert them into neighborhood laundries.

Copyright, 1967, King, Inc.

described her encounter with the photographers, writing in a gushy paperback book titled "Jayne Mansfield's Wild Wild World" complete with nude poses.

"I dived in and felt my bra strain but I swam around under water and followed all their instructions. Then it happened. I guess it was bound to. For a moment I lost my bra. It was a wonderful field day for the reporters and photographers."

She returned to Hollywood an instant celebrity. Despite the avalanche of publicity, Warner Brothers dropped her from a contract. She headed for Broadway and a play by George Axelgmill "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?"

The play was less than smash, but it managed a healthy run largely because of the monumental publicity campaign built around Jayne Mansfield. She was indefatigable. She accepted honors as the Cherry Blossom Queen of Brooklyn, danced "The Jayne Mansfield Mambo" at the El Morocco and bumbled quotes like, "Why shouldn't I use what I have?"

Her role as movie star Rita Marlowe was an obvious takeoff on the sex symbol of the period, Marilyn Monroe. Twentieth Century-Fox, which was having troubles with the temperament of the real Monroe, sought Jayne as a threat to the reigning queen.

Jayne starred with Tony Randall in the film version of "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" and she provided a humorous portrait of Monroe. She did the same in a rock 'n' roll movie, "The Girl Can't Help It." But Marilyn Monroe was already a caricature of sex, and to dilute the caricature further seemed superfluous.

Her career in important films waned, but not her appetite for publicity. "I have always felt that publicity is as necessary to most careers as a ball to a tennis game," she wrote in her paperback autobiography, obviously with the aid of a ghost. "It is the focal need of an actress. Some come by it easily and some never come by it. As for me, I work hard at it and it shows results."

After World's Talking Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Desmond Slattery is after the world's nonstop talking record. After giving a peek to the Starkey Stone, the Kansas-born Slattery flew here from Ireland Thursday.

He started gabbing on the plane. "He wouldn't stop," said a dazed airline stewardess. "He just went on and on and on."

Newsman at the airport got their questions in edgewise. "Are you a good listener?"

"Ordinarily I am. That's why I am such a good talker."

Slattery is after a record of 5 days and 13 hours held by another Irishman, Vincent Sheehan of Limerick. He gets two hours a day to sleep, three 25-minute breaks to eat plus 10 minutes off each hour.

Alston Picks Own Hurlers as Starters

By HAROLD HARRISON
CINCINNATI (AP) — Manager Walter Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers named two of his own hurlers today to the eight-man National League pitching staff for the annual All-Star Game to be played at Anaheim, Calif., July 11.

They were Don Drysdale and Claude Osteen.

In all, Alston, who will manage the National Leaguers, picked five right-handers and three left-handers. They have a combined win and lost record of 67-40 through games of Thursday night.

Besides Drysdale, the right-handers named were Juan Marchal of the San Francisco Giants, Gerguson Jenkins of the Chicago Cubs, Bob Gibson of the St. Louis Cardinals, and rookie Tom Seaver of the New York Mets.

The southpaws, in addition to Osteen, will be Denny Lemaster of the Atlanta Braves and Mike Cuellar of the Houston Astros.

The starting lineup, named by a vote of players, except for pitchers, was announced Thursday and Alston's choices for hurlers leaves only the Cincinnati Reds without a man on the squad thus far. The Reds led the league until a recent slump, which came after a rash of injuries sidelined a flock of regulars.

All-Star Game rules require at least one player on the squad from each club so a Cincinnati player will have to be selected later by Alston when he names extra players to go with the starting lineup and the pitchers. Five of the pitchers will be making their first appearance on an All-Star squad. They are Jenkins, 10-5, Seaver, 6-5, Osteen, 10-7, Lemaster, 7-2, and Cuellar, 8-3.

It will be Marichal's sixth time on the squad. He has a 10-6 record this year and has a 1-0 record in previous All-Star games. In those contests he has pitched 11 innings and has an earned-run average of 0.82.

Drysdale with a 7-8 record this year will be the senior member of the staff as far as All-Star Games are concerned.

Whitfield Again Beats the Tigers

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Fred Whitfield sure knows how to hurt a guy, adding insult to injury that left the once high-flying and healthy Detroit Tigers beaten and bruised again.

The Cleveland first baseman relaxed on the bench for seven innings Thursday night, watching the Tigers roll merrily along with thoughts of victory dancing in their heads. Then stepping off the bench, he dashed them unmercifully with a pinch hit three-run homer in the eighth inning that gave the Indians a 5-3 triumph.

The loss was the 15th in 21 games for the second-place Tigers, who led the league until June 11. Detroit also lost another outfielder, Gates Brown, who joined All-Star Al Kaline on the sidelines.

Brown suffered a dislocated left wrist trying to make a catch and will be out two weeks.

Still worse, the Tigers missed a chance to pick up a game on the Chicago White Sox, who never had much reason for hope as Baltimore's Tom Phoebus cut them down on three hits 4-1 in the only other American League game.

In the National League, San Francisco took apart St. Louis 12-4, Cincinnati buried Los Angeles 14-0, the Chicago Cubs nipped Pittsburgh 4-3 and Philadelphia nudged the New York Mets 1-0. Atlanta and Houston were rained out.

The Tigers remained 5½ games behind Chicago and only 2½ games from second division as Whitfield again proved painful in the late innings. The famous New York Yankee killer, who has won two other games with 10th-inning homers and a third with an eighth-inning single, turned on the Tigers in this chance to do damage with the 100th homer of his major league career.

Vic Davallio, batting for winner Luis Tiant, had doubled with one out and Max Alvis had singled him home. When Leon Wagner followed with another hit, Fred Gladding replaced Denny McLain on the mound and Whitfield took over for Don Demeter at the plate and hit a 400-foot drive in the upper deck in right field.

The Tigers had taken a 3-1 lead on a solo shot by Dick McAuliffe and a two-run blast by Mickey Stanley in the seventh.

Phoebus had things well under control against the White Sox with home run help from Paul Blair and Russ Snyder accounting for three runs.

The rookie right-hander struck out 11, walked none and weakened only in the second inning when Ken Berry touched him for a homer. Tommy Agee's single in the first and J.C. Martin's double in the fifth were the only other hits.

"Getting the ball over the plate was my biggest asset," he said after raising his record to 7-3. "The only way to beat Chicago is to throw strikes and keep their runners off the bases."

"I'm surprised he only had 11 strike outs," said Pete Ward of the Sox. "I thought he struck out 15 or 16 the way he threw."

Chicago Manager Eddie Stanky also was impressed. "Is he that good?" he asked of Phoebus, who has Baltimore's only two victories in the last seven games. "He's a stopper. He sure stopped us tonight."

came on and got credit for the victory. It wasn't quite as bad for Drysdale against the Reds. He was charged with six of the runs as the Reds charged to an 11-0 lead in the first three innings.

Tony Perez, Don Pavletich and Deron Johnson each slammed home runs and drove in three runs apiece as Cincinnati raked four Dodger pitchers for 18 hits.

Milt Pappas hurled a five-hitter and breezed to his eighth victory.

Bunning was almost untouchable against the Mets—the team he pitched a perfect game against three years ago this month.

Two of New York's three hits were infield rollers and only five Mets reached base against the Philadelphia ace, who squared his record at 8-8.

Bunning retired the first 10 batters and 14 of the last 15, striking out seven and walking two. He got the only run he needed when the Phillies bunched three hits against loser Jack Fisher in the fourth inning.

Ernie Banks hammered his 15th homer of the season and the 434th of his career, lifting the streaking Cubs to their victory over Pittsburgh.

Hammer Is Leading Canada Meet

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
MONTREAL (AP) — It figured. Golf's touring pros took one look at the short, flat, waterless Montreal Municipal 1 Course, rubbed their hands in glee and privately predicted they'd take it apart.

They did. But who would have figured that the chief destroyers would be Laurie Hammer, Roger Ginsberg, Steve Reid and Dave Stockton?

The established pros had difficulties ranging from mild (Jack Nicklaus) to severe (Arnold Palmer and Gary Player) while the new breed continued the tradition of domination in the Canadian Open Golf Tournament.

Hammer, 24, a big blond, All-American-boy type from Sarasota, Fla., established the first-round lead with a five-under-par 66. He had five birdies and no bogeys.

Ginsberg, 28, who has yet to win on the tour, and Reid, 30, a part-time performer on the pro circuit, tied for second with veteran Art Wall, all at 67.

Sharing the next position at 68 were Dave Stockton, 25, who scored his first tournament victory earlier this year, and veteran Gardner Dickinson.

In retrospect, it really isn't too surprising. In six of the last 12 years this tournament has been won by rookie pros, unknowns or amateurs.

Doug Sanders won as an amateur, Arnold Palmer, Jack Cupit and Wes Ellis were among the pros gaining their first victory here.

But Hammer may be the longest shot of them all. In 1½ years on the tour he has won about $2,100—including pro-am events in all. His best finish has been a tie for 16th.

But he played with the aplomb of a veteran Thursday, calmly carving out his 66 and then relaxing and letting the rest of them shoot at it.

"I guess I played pretty well," said the lanky youngster, who is sponsored by his father, a retired dairy man from Illinois. "I only missed on green. You've got to play well when you do that."

"Sure, I've been pretty discouraged at times—I only won $16 in 1966. I've never really thought of quitting, but my dad and I kind of put a time limit of two years on it."

Then he flashed that big smile and added: "But we might have to extend it now."

Nicklaus, who said he played "a half sloppy round," was one of five tied at 69. The others were Labron Harris, Hugh Royer, Billy Casper and Argentine Veteran Roberto DeVicenzo, who missed a hole in one by a foot.

In all, 18 players beat par and another 15 matched it. Palmer and Player were not among them. Palmer, with Nicklaus the co-favorite, took a one-over 72 on "the worst driving I've done in a long time."

Player, who had practice rounds of 66 and 65, struggled in the top of the second, and the game will be made up later might happen to hold the singleton king of diamonds so South played out the ace of diamonds.

As far as East knew he did hold the singleton king and he played it. South smiled happily and led a diamond to dummy's 10. East discarded a spade and South was about to lead another diamond when West asked, "No diamonds, partner?"

"No diamonds," replied
East.

"Look carefully," asked West.

East looked carefully and suddenly discovered the jack of diamonds mixed among his hearts. He played it and won the trick.

Even then South might have been successful. East was a very bad player and might not have led a spade but, unfortunately for South, East had already exposed a spade and was compelled by rules to lead it.

He did. West did the rest and the unlucky expert was down two on a laydown hand.

Q—The bidding has been:
West North East South
1 ♠ 2 ♦ Pass 1 ♥
3 ♠ 4 ♦ Pass 4 N.T.
Pass 5 ♥ Pass ?

You, South, hold:
♠ A K J 7 ♦ K 3 2 ♣ A Q 10 5 4
What do you do now?

A—There just aren't that many cards in the deck but you can afford to bid five no-trump anyway. That opening club bid looks most peculiar.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You bid five no-trump and your partner bids six clubs to show no kings. What do you do now?

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Fishing More Hazardous
Than Water Skiing Sport

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Which is safer, fishing or water skiing? According to the National Safety Council, skiing has a commanding lead.
Here are some of the reasons fishing may be hazardous.
Standing up and moving about in a small boat to land a fish is likely, sooner or later, to lead to falling overboard. Most fish can be landed while you are sitting but, if you do stand up, it is imperative that your companion remain seated and alert to keep the boat on an even keel.

If you are alone in a small boat you should step only on the bottom board, never on the seat, and avoid placing your feet near the sides of the boat. If you make a bad cast and your hook gets caught in the branches of a tree you should cut it loose rather than try to recover it if the recovery means standing up and reaching above your head.

Another hazardous procedure is carrying your outboard motor into your boat.
You may lose your balance, your motor or both. Rather you should set the motor on the edge of the dock, get into your boat, athwart your boat, then lift the motor in. In starting the motor you should remain seated when pulling the starter cord.

Lingering for one last cast when darkness is approaching has caused many an accident.
In your hurry to get back to your base in semidarkness without running lights you may hit a submerged rock,
a floating log or another boat.
These obstacles are easily avoided with better light and less speed. When a storm threatens, the only safe procedure is to run for home.

Always carry spare gasoline but don't completely fill the can because gasoline expands in the hot sun. Spills should be wiped up promptly. Never smoke while refueling. Since while in a small boat you must have your wits about you at all times you should postpone your drinking until you get back on shore.

Finally, to avoid fishhook injuries you should always cast overhead—not sidearm—and always carry a strong wire cutter. Handle a landed fish with care because his sudden thrashing may plunge the business end of a hook into your hand. A very large fish should be stunned with a club before gaffing.

Fishing has always been a popular sport and probably always will be. If you want to enjoy it, avoid running needless risks.

Stories of the unlucky expert and the very bad bridge player have appeared in this column before. Usually even the unluckiest of experts comes out all right against a very bad bridge player. This time the bad bridge player's ineptness led to defeat for the expert.

South's three no-trump contract was normal enough but the spade lead was slightly embarrassing. He ducked the first spade on general principles but West continued the suit and South was in. The hand was one of those typical laydowns. As you can see, the club finesse was on and South could take it and bring him his nine tricks.

South was ready to try clubs eventually but he saw an extra chance. East just

Skilling at The Narrows Makes This a Good 4th of July Color Show

Of the many water-skiing color photographs he has made over the years Alex. H. Washburn, The Star's editor, regards these as his best. He shot them from the roof of a small cruiser in Cowhide Cove Bay at Narrows Lake in 1958.

School football star, now a Hope attorney, does a fast turn on skis.

The pictures are from 35mm. Kodachromes except the one of Graves, which was shot on High-Speed Ektachrome. The editor made the color separation negatives on The Star's Berkey machine.

Johnson Is Acting Like Campaigner

By FRANK CORMIER
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson is beginning to act again like the hard-driving campaigner of 1964 but with a difference. He isn't giving much advance notice of his travels.

This naturally has a decided effect on the kind of reception he's been getting. Big crowds, the kind politicians seek when in the middle of a real campaign, don't turn out unless there is advance publicity.

Johnson was greeted by a few thousand people in Philadelphia Thursday when he went there, en route to his Texas ranch, to tour some antipoverty facilities. Had there been a campaign-style buildup of advance publicity, the number might have been in the tens of thousands.

But the President did not permit a public announcement of his Philadelphia trip until he was on his way. Since the flying time between Washington and the City of Brotherly Love is less than 30 minutes, it perhaps is remarkable that anyone turned out in the Negro slum area he visited.

Security considerations reportedly bulked large in the White House decision to avoid advance publicity. In addition, the President is known to prefer to keep his schedule very flexible. This allows him to back out on tentatively planned forays at the last minute, if he deems that wise, without being accused of changing his mind.

But that policy raises the question of whether Johnson intends to mount an election campaign in 1968 minus the kind of advance tub-thumping that turns out big crowds.

That Johnson at this point in poised to seek re-election seems plain enough. In other appearances within the past week, in Los Angeles and Baltimore, he stopped just short of announcing his candidacy while delivering campaign-style orations.

Official announcements of the Los Angeles and Baltimore trips also were withheld almost until the last moment. When White House newsmen were told Tuesday about the Baltimore appearance, they were informed simultaneously their bus would be leaving for Baltimore in 15 minutes.

Another possible Johnson trip is in the offing for Saturday. After several days of rumors, press secretary George Christian acknowledged Thursday that the President has been in-

So-Called New Yorker Is One of the Great American Myths

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — One of the great American myths is "the typical New Yorker."

By tradition, the typical New Yorker is a sophisticated fellow who hobnobs with celebrities, dwells in a penthouse, reads all the latest best sellers, eats only at the fanciest restaurants, spends his evenings at night clubs, gets daily inside tips on what to buy in Wall Street, and knows whom to call at City Hall if he wants to get a traffic ticket fixed.

He's a "guy in the know," and compared to him anybody who dwells west of the Hudson River is a winterland hayseed.

Ah, me, if life were only like that!

After 30 years of dwelling in O. Henry's fabled Baghdad on the Subway, I've decided that when it comes to "the typical New Yorker" of romantic legend, there probably ain't no such animal.

The "typical New Yorker," if you do happen to meet one, usually turns out to be an out-of-towner here for a lark on a Texas-sized expense account.

"I don't see how you stand the pace here," he says, leaving for home after a week or two spent trying to paint the big city a vivid crimson. "It would get me down."

Such remarks make a real New Yorker want to slit the out-of-towner's throat quietly. For the real New Yorker, like most of his brethren across the country, has to make do on a pretty tight budget. He doesn't see as much of the high-living side of the city in a year as a fast-buck visitor sees in a few nights.

There has been a steady exodus of middle-class white people from the city for several decades. Now the middle-class vited to address a one-day conference of Democratic governors in St. Louis. Christian said the bid was under consideration.

After flying here Thursday afternoon, the Johnsons attended funeral services for 83-year-old Huffman Baines, an uncle of the President who died Monday. Then they proceeded to their LBJ Ranch, some 75 miles northwest, for a July 4th holiday stay.

Spending the night with them at the ranch was their 9-day-old grandson, Patrick Lyndon Nugent, and his parents, Patrick J. and Luci Nugent.

Luci, 19, looked as svelte as ever following her confinement.

Negroes and Puerto Ricans are doing the same thing. As soon as they can afford to, they also are moving out to the suburbs in Westchester County and Long Island.

It isn't the mass of natives who keep the $20-a-meal glitter spots and the big expensive Broadway musicals running. New York is a work city, rather than "Fun City," to them.

Your real New Yorker is a guy who labors at an anonymous skyscraper desk and selects his lunch from a drug counter menu.

Your real New Yorker is a Wall Street stenographer who pays more than she can afford for a tiny dark walkup apartment in a Greenwich Village building that would probably be condemned in Vermont as an eyesore.

But they all share that same big dream: to earn enough so they can move away to somewhere cleaner and less noisy and less expensive.

Then they can come back occasionally as tourists and enjoy the big city in the way that only the out-of-towner can, pockets loaded with butter-and-egg money burning to be spent.

Uruguay in a Political Crisis

MONTEVIDEO (AP) — President Oscar Gestido is trying to purge his administration of a rebellious faction of the ruling Colorado party whose split with the government has plunged Uruguay into a political crisis.

The president accused Dr. Jorge Batlle Ibanez, leader of the rebel faction, of provoking the crisis. He demanded the resignation of Culture Minister Luis Hierro Cambardella, 51, and Julio LaCerte Muro, minister of commerce and industry, two of his supporters.

Batlle Ibanez was defeated by Gestido in the November elections. Batlle Ibanez brought the crisis to a head last week with a speech attacking Treasury Minister Carlos Vegg Carzon and the administration's economic policy.

Tug-of-War Over Funeral for Actress

By BEN THOMAS
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — The once-beautiful body of burlesque dancer and actress Jayne Mansfield, victim of a violent highway collision, lay today in the white-tiled morgue here as a quiet tug-of-war over her funeral developed.

Matt Cimber, estranged third husband of the 34-year-old actress, rushed here after her death Thursday and said he would plan the funeral.

Husband No. 2, movie musician Mickey Hargitay, also flew here. He went first to the bedside of their three children — injured when the car carrying Miss Mansfield rammed the rear of a big truck east of the city.

Hargitay said his former wife's mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Peers of Dallas, Tex., also had come here about Miss Mansfield's funeral.

He said it would be private but declined to elaborate. One funeral home said: "We're waiting further word from the mother."

Dr. Nicholas Chetta, Orleans Parish coroner, ordered his staff not to release Miss Mansfield's body without his approval.

Also killed in the 2:25 a.m. wreck 34 miles from the heart of New Orleans were Miss Mansfield's latest love interest, attorney Samuel S. Brody, 48, of Los Angeles, and the chauffeur of the car, Ronald Harrison, 20, of Mississippi City, Miss.

Mickey Hargitay Jr., 8, was told by his father that his mother "had a date with God."

"He is a smart boy," said Hargitay, his eyes flooded with tears and his voice choked with emotion. "He understood."

In Hollywood, Hargitay's manager, Ross Christena, said the couple were still in love.

"They had dinner together in New York a week ago," Christena said. "Jayne told Mickey many times they were the only man she really loved."

Miss Mansfield was coming here for a scheduled appearance on New Orleans television station WDSU-TV at noon Thursday after finishing her second show at the Gus Stevens restaurant and supper club in Biloxi, Miss.

She was to return to Biloxi later Thursday and was to entertain Seabees today at the Navy mobile construction battalion training center at Gulf-

President's Kin Joins Navy Reserve

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Rodney White, a nephew of President Johnson, has joined the Navy Reserve for a six-year enlistment.

White, 19, is the son of the late Col. and Mrs. Willard White, according to the Austin Naval Reserve Training Center which made the announcement Monday.

His mother was the former Josefa Johnson, the President's sister, the Navy records showed. He will serve on active duty for two years after a year of intensive training at the center.

Redistricting Compromise Offers Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees have approved a congressional redistricting compromise measure that would give 33 states the means to avoid for five years compliance with the Supreme Court's one man-one vote edict.

The version of the bill worked out Monday by the conferees was termed unconstitutional by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and "an open and flagrant invitation to gerrymandering" by Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Mich.

Kennedy and Conyers vowed to continue their fight for prompt implementation of the high court decision.

The compromise bill would permit present congressional districts to remain unchanged until after the 1970 census unless special federal census figures are available—a condition not likely to be met.

Thus wide population variations among a state's districts would remain in effect until after the 1972 elections, when the differences would have to drop to 10 per cent or less.

The House originally adopted a measure that would have permitted a population variation of up to 30 per cent for the 1968 and 1970 elections.

port, Miss. The children, Mickey Jr., Zoltan, 6, and Marie, 3, remained today in Ochsner Foundation Hospital.

Hargitay, their father, said he would take them back to California when they were released from the hospital.

Miss Mansfield had two other children, a daughter, Jayne Marie Mansfield, 16, from her first marriage, and a 1-year-old son, Antonio Cimber,

Recipients Suffer in Welfare Fuss

By JEAN HELLER
NEW YORK (AP) — The young man and his wife sat on the wooden chairs in the sterile gray and green room and held hands. He was 22 and she was 18. They had been married four months. They were being evicted from their apartment and hadn't eaten in three days.

They were losers—two of the 650,000 persons on the city's welfare rolls.

This month many of them are losers—caught in the middle of a situation they didn't want, didn't cause and don't need.

It started 10 days ago when about 80 per cent of the Department of Welfare's case workers began refusing to do their assigned tasks in a demonstration to underscore a contract dispute with the city.

To avoid breaking a state law prohibiting strikes by public employees, they went to work but did no work, meeting in seminars instead.

A few days later, the city decided that if the case workers wanted to hold seminars, they could hold them just as well on the sidewalk, and permitted only those willing to perform "assigned work" to enter the welfare centers.

At some of the city's 33 centers, those willing to work under the specified conditions numbered only two or three of a normal staff of 100 or more. Supervisory personnel and office help were brought in to replace missing case workers.

It hasn't been enough. Welfare Department spokesmen say that the temporary setup has been sufficient to maintain at least emergency services.

Some doubt it. "This is our third day here," the young husband said. "Each time we come about 10 in the morning and at 4 in the afternoon they give us cards and tell us to come back tomorrow. They give us numbers to keep us in order. Today I got number 87. About 12:30 they called number 45. They haven't called another number since."

It was then 2 p.m. "We owe 3 1/2 weeks rent," the man said. "This morning the landlord told us he couldn't wait any more. They've got to help us today."

Outside, six members of the Social Service Employees Union marched back and forth. "We feel awful about those people in there," said Michael McKala.

Egypt Bars U.S., British Ships

CAIRO (AP) — The Egyptian government has barred U.S., British and West German ships from all Egyptian ports, the newspaper Al-Gumhuriya said today.

The paper said Egyptian authorities have notified shipping companies of the three nations that any of their vessels en route to Egyptian ports should "divert their course to Genoa, Singapore or Western European ports to reload their cargoes on ships of other nationalities."

The semi-official paper Al-Ahram said Egypt has asked all diplomatic missions and U.N. agencies to close their consulates and offices in the Suez Canal Zone.

The paper said they will not be reopened until Israel pulls its troops back from areas occupied near the Canal zone.

This Month Nothing Was Settled

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This was a nebulous month, and for no one more than President Johnson. June was full of hazy beginnings and nothing fully settled, neither war nor peace. But by month's end Johnson seemed positively perky.

June was his nimble month, one of his best ones. He hopped around, looking good, sounding good, feeling good. Yet, there was little positive to point to. If the results are good, they're in the future.

What he did was keep his cool in hot weather. He was subtle and supple.

The temperature went up early when the Israelis flattened their pugnacious Arab neighbors and took chunks of their land. Ordinarily, this might have been the end of trouble in the Middle East for some time.

There was nothing ordinary about June. Anything but.

There is no peace. Before the war the Arabs talked of blasting Israel to smithereens. Now they can't even take back their own land and have to ask the United Nations to get it back for them.

As part of their surge the Israelis absorbed all of Jerusalem. Everybody knew this. But this week they did it formally. It was greeted as an outrage. Even the Johnson administration said this was a hasty action it couldn't approve.

This was Johnson's first rebuke to Israel. Until then he hadn't rebuked either side although the Arabs thought he was cozy with Israel, and it angered them. In this case standing aloof was his technique.

He didn't want to see Israel squashed. But he didn't want to lose the favor of the Arabs, either. He couldn't afford to. The Soviet Union was after it. And there's a limit on how much of the world the United States can afford to antagonize. Red China was already lost although that had its origin in the days of his predecessors.

When the war began to bubble, and when it boiled, Johnson tried to stand back, be a pacifier, and kept the "hot line" to Moscow busy, breathing peace. The Soviets breathed back.

This was the biggest moment of the month: When the two giants assured each other they wouldn't barge into the little war to make it large. They let it stay little, which also angered the Arabs since the Soviet Union had promised to help them.

Getting over this hump alone showed brains on both sides. It was enough to lift Johnson's spirit, and it obviously did.

While the Arabs still glared at him Johnson had King Hussein of Jordan to the White House. Apparently he had been one Arab who never wanted any part of the war but signed up with the other Arabs, knowing if he didn't he might be out.

Oddly now, after the war that splattered his tiny kingdom and left it wrecked, Hussein looks simply safe.

If Johnson and Hussein accomplished anything, it hasn't been revealed. But the day after their meeting this government made $2 million available to the United Nations for care of Arab war refugees.

Just in case anyone thought Hussein put the bite on Johnson, his administration made it clear he made the decision on the relief money the day before Hussein arrived here.

And nothing shows better the Johnson technique of avoiding unnecessary ill will than the way this country handled itself when the U.N. debate over the Arab-Israeli war got raucous.

The United States, no matter what its sympathies for Israel, let Israel do the shouting against the Arabs while this country played the calm moderator, arbitrator and friend of

They Have to Study Now at Berkeley

By HAROLD V. STREETER
BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) —

The young man popped the legs of the bridge table into place, thumb-tacked a sign on the front and placed the table near Ludwig Fountain on the bricked Sproul Hall Plaza at the University of California.

"We won't go, October 16 resistance," the sign read.

It was, the young man explained, a nationwide rally to resist the military draft. Oct. 16 was the target date.

Students at the summer session, on their way to classes, paid the table scant attention.

The same indifference was manifest for another table of the Young Socialist Alliance, a splinter Trotsky group. Its table tenders have been handing out literature in the same area for years.

This quiet scene offers startling contrast to the turmoil and protest spawned on the same bricked wall between Sproul Hall and the Student Union, from the fall of 1964 until the firing of Clark Kerr as university president last January.

During those more than two years of tumult, a long line of tables offered pleas ranging from legalization of marijuana to sexual freedom. In front of them, especially at the noon hour, there was such a congestion of the curious and the argumentative that others of the 27,000 students often were late for classes on the 178-acre campus.

All that has changed. Why?

—The trouble sprouted over a rule banning political and civil rights activities on campus. The rule has been changed and campus interest in the civil rights movement largely has faded away.

—The leaders of the now disbanded Free Speech Movement have gone.

—University regents voted out Kerr over dissatisfaction with his handling of the crises. Berkeley campus Chancellor Roger Heyns, who entered the scene prior to the firing, since has succeeded in containing further troubles by a combination of conferences and tough enforcement.

But a university spokesman points out another pertinent fact: "After the civil rights fuss came the protests over the war in Vietnam. The students held rallies. They marched. But the war went on.

"Then we changed over from the semester to the quarter system. That meant more examinations and harder study. Now the male students are so busy keeping up their grades to stay out of the draft that they have no time left for protest."

all. Nobody was given reason to be sore at the United States.

And even Johnson's two days' talks with Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin looked good. The two men came out like long-lost cousins at a reunion while crowds of Americans in New Jersey cheered, much to Kosygin's delight.

All that might have solved nothing, either, but it didn't spoil anything. And Johnson came out of his meeting with Kosygin looking better than President John F. Kennedy did after his meeting with former Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev who thought Kennedy was a soft touch.

Perhaps the best evidence that by the end of June Johnson felt like a man renewed came this week. For some reason of his own last fall Johnson, abandoning his long-time flamboyancy and ebullience, turned almost bleak for months in his public statements, speeches and news conferences. He played everything in a low key.

This week in a Baltimore speech he returned to his old self, puffed with pride in American progress. And, for a change, he went after his critics.

Home After 10 Month Solo Voyage

BIRKENHEAD, England (AP) — Malcolm Reid is home from the sea after a 10-month solo voyage in a 25-foot sloop from Singapore by way of the Cape of Good Hope.

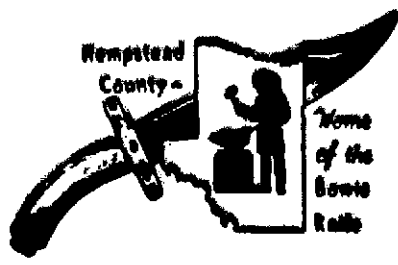

Reid, 28, made no attempt to adhere to a timetable as did Sir Francis Chichester on his recent solo circumnavigation in Gipsy Moth IV.

Relating the highlights of his trip Monday, Reid recalled swimming in the Atlantic alongside his craft one day when suddenly three whales surfaced only 60 feet away.

Said Reid, "I have never come out of the water so fast in my life."

Hot Water, Many Towns Have It; Currently 83

One of the things I told the Arkansas Press Association convention at Hot Springs last Saturday was that the new Berkeley color separator won't give you trouble—but your water refrigeration system will.

And I had no sooner returned home than I found myself besieged. We had the idea of getting out a Color Show on water-skiing just ahead of the Fourth of July—but promptly had trouble with the most important of our three water-cooling systems. Color work is critically dependent on temperature control; you must stay within a half a degree of 68 all the way. If the Narrows Color Show appears in today's paper you'll know we made out, although by the hardest.

Hope, like many Southern cities, either carries its water lines too close to the pavement or else heats the water in the process of pumping from deep wells—and delivers water to downtown establishments at a temperature currently 83 degrees. In past years I have checked it as high as 93 on a hot summer day.

Old-timers will recall that when gas refrigerators were introduced in Hope the first models were unsuccessful because they were water-cooled and wouldn't operate on Hope's hot water. Later they switched to air-cooling, and worked O.K.

We have a similar problem in chilling water for photography. Under repeated overload the circuit-breaker gets "tired" and cuts out the compressor. I'm doing something about a new circuit-breaker today. Reason I know is, it made it through last summer, but this is only June and it will never last through July and August.

Few Paid Fire Departments

CAMDEN, Ark. (AP)—J. C. Ruppert, director of industrial education for the state Department of Education, said Thursday that there were only 20 fire departments in Arkansas that have paid firemen.

Ruppert told the advisory Committee for the Southwest Vocational-Technical Institute, which is meeting here to map plans for a course in fire training for the state's firemen, that there were 8,000 volunteer firemen.

About 25 fire chiefs, fire bureau rating personnel and institute directors heard a progress report on development of a course in fire protection technology for firemen.

U.S. Funds for Vaccinations

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Federal funds can be used to pay for many of the immunization shots required for Arkansas school children under a 1967 legislative act, state Education Commissioner Arch W. Ford said Thursday.

More than 30 per cent of the state's public school students are covered under Title I of the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act, which will pay for shots given children of deprived families, Ford said.

State Act 244 of 1967 requires all students to be immunized against polio, diphtheria, red measles and tetanus. The act originally included pertussis, or whooping cough, but a recent attorney general's ruling held that portion of the law invalid.

Constitutional Convention Seen

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Ted Boswell of Little Rock, a member of the Constitutional Revision Study Commission, predicted Thursday that a constitutional convention would be held in Arkansas "within the near future."

Boswell, an attorney, told the Little Rock Rotary Club that more than 267 proposed amendments had been offered in the state legislature in the past 10 years and that only three had been approved by the people. Revision of the constitution by the amending process is "awkward" and could result in "piecemeal revision," he said.

Interference Charged by Prison Chief

TUCKER PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP)—The first trained penologist in the Arkansas prison system says he has met with nothing but "harassment and interference" from Cummins Prison Farm officials since his appointment Feb. 13 as assistant state prison superintendent in charge of Tucker.

Thomas O. Murton, 38, a criminology professor at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale before Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller appointed him to his $8,000-a-year job here, mailed a 19-page status report to members of the state Penitentiary Board Wednesday.

"This institution will never progress under the continued harassment and interference by Cummins officials," he wrote. "The unceasing efforts to cause failure of our efforts here must be terminated."

Murton, who said when he took the job here that he wanted it because he thought it would be "intriguing and challenging," was hired after a State Police investigation revealed instances of torture, brutality, extortion and forced homosexuality.

AP&L Worker Electrocuted

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark. (AP)—Denny Ragby, 24, of Timbo (Stone County), an employee of the Arkansas Power & Light Co., was electrocuted Thursday when he came in contact with a high voltage line while working on a power line about five miles southeast of here.

Sigs for Party Act Delivered

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Additional petitions calling for a referendum on the 1967 party affiliation act were delivered to the secretary of state's office Thursday by the Committee to Preserve Voters Rights.

The group, which only needed 33,812 valid signatures to refer the law to a vote in the 1968 General Election, added 170 petitions containing 2,351 signatures to the original 3,475 petitions and 68,046 signatures presented Secretary of State Kelly Bryant earlier in the week.

59 of 82 Survive Plane Crash

HONG KONG (AP)—A Thailand airliner carrying 80 or 82 persons crashed into Hong Kong harbor today. Airport officials said 59 survived.

The list seven dead and 24 or 26 missing and presumed dead. They said the twin-jet, Caravelle carried 73 passengers but were unable to give the exact number of the crew—whether seven or nine.

At least 11 Americans were reported aboard the plane, which was coming in for a landing at fog-shrouded Kai Tak airport when, one official said, a rain squall suddenly hit.

An airline official said the pilot was a Dane and the other crew members were Asians, mostly Thai.

Airport officials said the plane missed its landing approach and crashed into the sea. Kai Tak's main runway extends for almost a mile into the waters of Kowloon Bay, a part of Hong Kong harbor.

Bill Would Ban Fees on Reservoirs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arkansas congressmen introduced a bill Thursday that would eliminate the Army Engineers' authority to collect various fees at lakes and reservoirs under its control.

The bill sponsored by Reps. Wilbur Mills and David Pryor, Democrats, and John Paul Hammerschmidt, a Republican, would amend the Rivers and Harbors Act of 1965 and terminate much of the fee-collecting authority given the engineers by the Land and Water Conservation Fund Act of 1965.

The proposal appears to be imperative to maintain the traditional freedom of access and use of the waterways and lakes of the nation, they said.

The bill will not end collection of user fees at highly developed camping sites, beach areas and similar high cost recreational facilities, they said.

Crossett, Hamburg Papers Merge

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP)—The Crossett News Observer and the Ashley County Leader at Hamburg have merged their operations into a corporation known as the Ashley County Publishing Co., in an economy move.

The Observer will be published each week on Wednesday beginning with the second issue in July, and the Leader will be published on Thursday. The editorial policies of the papers will remain unchanged.

$182,000 to Blytheville

WASHINGTON (AP)—Loans of $182,000 to help Blytheville, Ark., plan downtown Urban Renewal projects and $7,500 to help Marked Tree, Ark., plan 50 low rent housing units were approved Thursday by the Housing and Urban Development Department.

Says Strike Threatens Development

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The nine-month-old strike at the Ottenheimer Bros. Mfg. Co., here poses a serious threat to future industrial development in Arkansas, state AFL-CIO President Bill Becker said Thursday. The strike could discourage workers from coming to Arkansas or remaining in the state, Becker said, and this would affect the state's ability to gain new industry.

Becker attributed the length of the strike to "the failure of the Ottenheimer management to bargain in good faith."

"The company has only agreed to meet twice since the strike started last October," Becker said.

He said that the striking members of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union had been willing to meet with management at any time.

Picketing at the plant was enjoined last week after a circuit court ruling that 13 strikers were in contempt of court because they had violated a previous court order calling for peaceful picketing. The strikers have appealed the decision.

U.S. Admits Second Soviet Ship May Have Been Hit at Haiphong Ky Decides to Seek No. 2 Post

By BARRY KRAMER

SAIGON (AP)—Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, who has led South Vietnam's military government for two years, withdrew from the race for the presidency today to seek the No. 2 spot on a ticket headed by Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu.

The decision came after three days of tense meetings of the powerful Armed Forces Council during which the competition between Ky and Thieu, who both had been running for the presidency, reached a climax.

Ky has gone from being the No. 1 presidential candidate to No. 2 man on someone else's ticket, making it apparent he lost a great deal of power in the last three days.

Thieu, on the other hand, has now gained the top spot. The fact that he and Ky will no longer be competing for the 600,000 votes of the armed forces makes him virtually unbeatable.

The Thieu-Ky combination also eliminates the possibility that their competition would split the military, a fear the United States has been expressing since Ky and Thieu both decided to run for president.

The Thieu-Ky ticket was expected to register by midnight tonight, the registration deadline.

Oregon Frees Convicts, Appeal Likely

BAKER, Ore. (AP)—A circuit court decision to free four convicts who escaped from the Tucker Prison Farm in Arkansas will be appealed to the Oregon Supreme Court, Baker County District Atty. Jess Himmelsbach said here Thursday. Himmelsbach said the appeal might be filed today.

Circuit Judge Lyle R. Wolff granted 30 days for an appeal after ruling last month that the prisoners should be released because they faced cruel and unusual punishment at Tucker.

Wolff's order came after a hearing on a writ of habeas corpus questioning the county's authority for holding the men—Jimmy Pike, 36, Richard O. Emory, 38, James Stephens, 22, and Don Smith, 17, all of whom were arrested here Jan. 17 as fugitives.

Oregon Gov. Tom McCall had signed an extradition order to send the men back to Arkansas, but the order was blocked by Wolff's decision.

Planes Hit MIG Fields at Hanoi

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP)—American warplanes chopped up portions of a MIG airfield west of Hanoi and blasted two supply targets on the outskirts of Haiphong Thursday.

U.S. headquarters reported pilots flew 152 missions over North Vietnam, the heaviest directed at supply facilities ringing North Vietnam's capital and its major port city.

Ground fighting in the South amounted to only scattered skirmishes.

The military actions were far overshadowed by the surprise withdrawal of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky from the presidential election race and his agreement to run for vice president on the ticket of his chief military rival, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu, now the titular chief of state.

Navy jet bombers from carriers in the South China Sea attacked a petroleum storage area and supply transshipment point, both about 3 1/2 miles west of Haiphong.

The Soviet Government charged that the U.S. planes bombed a merchant ship in Haiphong harbor. A U.S. spokesman said returning pilots had reported no such incident and there had been no mention of any merchant ship in the action reports.

The bombing targets were on the south bank of the Kua Kam River, Haiphong's artery to the sea. The city itself lies on the south bank of the river and merchant shipping is often moored up and down the river and outside the immediate Haiphong port facilities.

The precise targets were the Loi Dong fuel storage area, about 3.7 miles from the center of Haiphong, and the Cong My transshipment point, about half a mile further out.

Showdown on Israel Withdrawal

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly approached a showdown today on whether any call for Israeli troops to leave captured Arab lands should depend on the Arabs finally declaring peace with Israel.

Egypt, Jordan, Syria and Lebanon have held that, despite their armistice agreements with Israel in 1949, the year the Jewish nation was formed by war, they remain in a state of war with her. Egypt has used this to justify keeping Israeli shipping out of the Suez Canal.

The showdown involves two rival resolutions. One introduced by 15 nonaligned nations calls for an immediate Israeli withdrawal from Egypt, Jordan and Syria, and asks that only after withdrawal should the Security Council consider "questions pertaining to the situation in the area."

Latin-American and Western delegations intended to submit a resolution today to have the assembly call for the withdrawal of troops and the renunciation of Arab belligerency, provide for a U.N. representative or mediator to help with a settlement and ask the Security Council to work on further problems.

Each side claimed privately that its resolution could receive the two-thirds vote needed for adoption.

But promotion of the Latin-American draft was considered to have undermined the non-aligned resolution, while Israel's annexation of Jerusalem's Old City, captured from Jordan in the war, appeared to have hurt chances for the Latin-American draft. Some diplomats speculated that neither would pass.
